

POLICY 1.38 – Rights and Responsibilities of Academic Freedom

Policy Category: General

Effective Date: March 2, 1989

Supersedes: (NEW)

---

PREAMBLE

The principle of academic freedom is not new; it has been in force in all universities in North America for several decades. Academic freedom provides a university community with the protection that must accompany independent research and the publication of its results. Academics frequently express ideas that are at odds with other views within the university, and sometimes with the views of society or government. Academic freedom ensures that such ideas can be expressed without fear of interference or repression from university administrators, politicians, or others.