

Distinguished University Professorships

Effective Date: June 28, 2022

Supersedes: May 6, 2004

Objective: To honour and celebrate the best teachers in the title of “Distinguished University Professor”.

Program:

Award includes:

Honorary title of “Distinguished University Professor” while employed at Western, but will change to “Distinguished University Professor” on the title in official documents, including papers, business cards and similar venues.

The total number of ‘active’ Distinguished University Professorships at any given time is capped at 3% of the full-time, tenured or probationary faculty members at Western.

Rationale:

The University is served well by recognizing the most outstanding members of their community. This award will recognize sustained excellence in scholarship over a substantial career at Western. Scholarship is broadly defined to include research and teaching, but cannot exclude either, as well as contributions to service to the community. Thus, this is not a recognition solely of research excellence, which is the purpose of the Hellmuth Prize, nor is it a recognition solely of teaching excellence, which is the purpose of the Pleva Award. The Distinguished University Professorship will recognize sustained

Distinguished University Professorships

Process:

There will be an annual nomination and selection cycle. A Distinguished University Professor Selection Committee will be created. This committee will consist of the following members:

- The Provost or designate,
- The Vice-President (Research) or designate,
- One senior scholar from another research-intensive university or institution, appointed by the Provost,
- Four senior scholars at Western, elected by Senate.

The Selection Committee will be chaired by the Provost or designate. Members will be appointed for two-year terms (once renewable) commencing July 1.

The Selection Committee will make recommendations to the President based on the criteria:

- Outstanding and sustained research record that have had international impact in the field of research and that identifies the individual as a leader, and
- A sustained record of excellence in teaching of undergraduates and/or supervision of graduate students and training of highly qualified personnel, and
- A demonstrated history of service to the University and the research community in general through serving on committees, participating in governance and contributing to peer review at the local, provincial, national or international level.

Restrictions:

To ensure excellence in these select awards
The selection criteria must be strict
All nominations may be rejected in any given year
